

Goddess Pitambara Sadhana

Goddess Bagalamukhi is the eighth Mahavidhya out of ten Mahavidhyas. She is the Goddess of immense power and is worshipped to attain victory over enemies, arguments etc. A person who worships her gets relief from all sorts of problems in life. The word “Bagala” has been derived from the Sanskrit word, Valga which means 'bride' in Sanskrit. Goddess Bagalamukhi has been given this name because of her beauty.

Goddess Bagalamukhi relieves a person from the enemies and negative energies. Goddess Bagalamukhi is also known as Pitambara. Yellow coloured materials are used for her puja as she is fond of yellow colour. Goddess Bagalamukhi has a yellow complexion like a gold and thus a person should wear yellow coloured clothes while worshipping Her.

Goddess Bagalamukhi can be seen riding a beautiful chariot embedded with gemstones. The devotees of the Goddess is able to defeat all his enemies and becomes successful in every field. She can be easily pleased by offering yellow flowers and coconut to her. Lamps should be lit in front of the idol of the Goddess kept on a heap of turmeric. Reciting Goddess Bagalamukhi's Mantras and offering yellow clothes to the goddess relieves a person from all kinds of obstacles and sufferings.

Recitation of Bagalamukhi Mantra is believed to have miraculous powers. Bagalamukhi Mantra is known to ensure victory over enemies. Bagalamukhi Mantra is specially suggested for people in administration and management cadres, politicians, those facing debts or litigation problems, etc. Bagalamukhi Mantra can be used by a person who is facing losses in business, financial problems, false court cases, false accusations, debt problems, obstacles in profession, etc. Bagalamukhi Mantra is effective for those appearing for competitive exams, debates, etc. Bagalamukhi Mantra also helps in warding off evil spirits and evil eye.

Bagalamukhi is also called Pitambaradevi or Brahmastra Roopini and she turns each thing into its opposite. She turns speech into silence, knowledge into ignorance, power into impotence, defeat into victory. She represents the knowledge whereby each thing must in time become its opposite. As the still point between dualities she allows us to master them. To see the failure hidden in success, the death hidden in life, or the joy hidden in sorrow are ways of contacting her reality. Bagalamukhi is the secret presence of the opposite wherein each thing is dissolved back into the Unborn and the Uncreated.

In 'Bagalamukhistotratram', a part of 'Rudrayamala' (a famous Tantra work), there are hymns in praise of the powers of Goddess Bagalamukhi –

"Vadi Mukati Rankati

Kshitipatiryaishwanarah Sheetati Krodhi
Samyati Durjanah Sujanati Khsipranugah
Khanjati. Garvi Khanjati Sarvaviccha Jarati
Tvanmantrinaamantritah Srinitye
Baglamukhi Pratidinam Tubhyam Namah "

By the effect of Your Mantra good conversationalists become speechless;

rich become beggars; devastating fire gets cooled. The anger of the angry person is removed; an evil minded person becomes good. The quick moving person becomes crippled. The conceit of the conceited person is reduced. Knowledgeable person nearly becomes a fool. Salutations to the compassionate Bagalamukhi!
